

CHRIST THE LORD IS RISEN TODAY

(Revised Version)

INTRO: A Asus A Asus

V1      A            E            D2            A            D            E            A
Christ the Lord is risen today, A-----llelu---ia!
    D                                    E    A    D            E            A
Sons of men and angels say, A-----lle--lu----ia!
    E                                    D            A            E            B            E
Raise your joys and triumphs high, A---lle---lu----ia!
  A                    D            A                    D            E            A            Asus
Sing, ye heavens, and earth reply,    A-----lle-lu---ia!

V2      A            E            D2            A            D            E            A
Lives again our glorious King, A-----llelu---ia!
    D                                    E            A    D            E            A
Where, Oh death, is now thy sting?    A-----llelu---ia!
    E                                    D            A            E            B            E
Dying once, He all doth save, A-----llelu----ia!
  A    D            A                    D            E            A            Asus    A            Asus
Where thy victory, Oh grave?    A-----llelu---ia!

V3      A            E            D            A            D            E            A
Love's redeeming work is done, A-----llelu---ia!
    D                                    E    A    D            E            A
Fought the fight, the battle won; A-----llelu----ia!
    E                                    D            A            E            B            E
Death in vain forbids Him rise, A-----llelu---ia!
  A                    D            A                    D            E            A
Christ has opened paradise,    A-----llelu----ia!

Repeat vs. 3 (a cappella on 1st 2 lines; band comes in on "Alleluia" ea. time)

This is an easier version – in a reasonable key to sing in, but it is missing some chords.